FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
Washington 25, D.C.

In reply refer to: 18232.

February 24, 1953.

National Broadcasting Company, Inc.
Radio Station KNBC-FM
c/o RCA Frequency Bureau
60 Broad Street
New York 4, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

This is in reply to your letter of January 26, 1953 requesting an extension beyond March 1, 1953 of the authority which permitted remote control operation of station KNBC-FM from the transmitter site of station KNBC.

The Commission has amended its rules, effective March 6, 1953, to provide for remote control operation of standard and FM broadcast stations employing nondirectional antennas and operating with powers of 10 kw or less. A simple application form is being devised for use of licensees in requesting permission to operate by remote control.

This letter will constitute authority for continued operation by remote control of the KNBC-FM transmitter pending effectiveness of the amended rules and completion of the forms for regular remote control of the station in accordance with the amended rules, which forms will be sent you as soon as they are available.

Very truly yours,

/s/ T J Slowie

T. J. Slowie
Secretary.
